Investor profile and strategy

This investment fund is a high equity, multi-asset-class fund of funds with the objective of delivering a consistent real total return above Namibia inflation plus 5% a year over five-year rolling periods. The investment fund is aimed at investors who have an intended investment horizon of five years or longer. It has a medium- to long-term investment horizon and, therefore, the aim is to maintain a high exposure to growth asset classes (local and global equities and property), with a small allocation to defensive asset classes. The investment fund consists of the full universe of asset classes, including global investments of up to 30% (excluding Africa). The remaining exposure is to asset classes that should preserve the purchasing power of the capital accumulated. Through the optimum selection of asset classes, the probability of achieving the outcome is maximised within acceptable risk parameters.

Risk/reward profile

Specific risks

This investment fund is permitted to invest in foreign securities which, within investment funds, may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of investment funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign-exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks and potential limitations on the availability of market information. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. Investors are reminded that an investment in a currency other than their own may expose them to a foreign-exchange risk.

Fund objective/investment policy

The Portfolio is a medium equity balanced Fund of Funds portfolio, aimed at individuals and funds who are in the consolidation phase of investing. Investors would have a medium-to-long term investment horizon and should be invested in a balance of growth and defensive asset classes.

Management of withdrawals

Due to the lower liquidity and the lack of diversification in the Namibian market, the investment manager requires advance notice for large withdrawals from the investment fund. Where the client cash flow activity results in breaches of the investment mandate the investment manager will need a reasonable period to rectify the breach/es.

Regulatory and investment constraints

The Fund must comply with Namibian local asset requirements as determined by Regulation 13 of the Pension Funds Act, No. 24 of 1956. Assets must be invested in accordance with the requirements set out in the Namibian Unit Trust Control Act, 1981 as may be amended or replaced from time to time. Global Investments may be included to a level not exceeding restrictions as determined by the Exchange Control Act regulations and any other limits specified in this investment mandate. If the allowable regulatory limit is raised in Namibia, approval will be needed to be obtained from the Namibian Central Bank in order to increase the exposure. The Fund will not be leveraged in any form. The Fund will, apart from assets in liquid form, consist solely of units in a unit trust/ collective investment scheme and other forms of participation in domestic unit trust/collective investment scheme funds, or other similar schemes operated in territories with a regulatory environment that is to the satisfaction of the Client and of a sufficient standard to provide investor protection, at least equivalent to that in Namibia, which is consistent with the Fund's primary objective, investing in, equity securities, property securities, money market instruments, preference shares, government and corporate bonds, inflation-linked bonds and other interest bearing securities and investments. The Fund will be managed in line with applicable prudential investment guidelines with a minimum domestic asset requirement allocation to Namibian Investments. The Fund may from time to time invest in listed and unlisted derivative instruments, for the purpose of hedging exchange rate risk. All income accruals due to the Fund will be re-invested upon receipt thereof, unless otherwise instructed by the Client.

Economic and market overview

During the quarter, the race for the White House was concluded with Democratic Party leader, Joe Biden winning the US Presidential election defeating incumbent president, Donald Trump. One of the key criticisms of the Trump administration was their handling of the coronavirus pandemic during the first and second wave as the number of infections in the US far exceeds that of many other countries. Amid many countries experiencing a second wave with higher daily infection rates than the first wave, there was a big sigh of relief when it was announced that a few vaccines were approved and started being rolled out from early December. This news, together with news that the US stimulus deal was approved, provided financial markets with its own shot in the arm.

Locally, the data prints continue to be poor, especially considering the covid-19 prevention strategies undertaken by the government which have impacted economic activity. The latest inflation readings show that the inflation rate decelerated to 2.2%, on the back of a reading of 2.3% in October. The decline in inflation is being largely driven by lower food and fuel costs. 3Q20 GDP print revealed the economy contracted by 10.5%, which follows contractions in both the first and second quarter. Due to the second wave being experienced by numerous countries, any near-term recovery is looking unlikely.

During the quarter, the equity markets rallied on the back of this news with developed market (DM) and emerging market (EM) equities posting gains of c.14% and c.20% respectively in US Dollars. Locally, the NSX overall index advanced by 5.8% in December, bringing the yearly return to -1.8%; whilst the NSX local index declined by 2.5% in the month reflecting a total return for the year of -22.6%. The market performance was driven by Resources, Banks, Insurers, and General Industrials.

In SA, the Rand, helped by news of a current account surplus in Q3, gained c.12% against the US Dollar. Local bonds gained 6.7% and the FTSE/JSE All Share index was up 9.7%. Locally all the major equity sectors performed well. Within Resources, an excellent performance from the Platinum sector (+29%) compensated for the disappointing performance from the Gold sector (-24.8%). The Financials sector was boosted by Listed Property (+22%) and Banks (25.8%).

Portfolio positioning, investment strategy & activity

The fund delivered 6.01% for the quarter. Contributing asset classes were Namibia Equity (12%), SA Equity (11.76%), SA Property (20.12%). The main detractor over the quarter was the Global exposure.

In terms of positioning the fund has maintained a relative underweight position to local listed property in favour of local equities.

A fund of funds, apart from investments in liquid form, consists solely of participatory interests in investment funds of CIS, which may levy their own charges and could result in a higher fee structure for fund of funds than some other forms of CISs.

The total expense ratio (TER) is the percentage of the net asset value of the class of the investment fund incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the investment fund. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The disclosed TER is shown as an annual percentage based on data for the period from 24 October 2018 to 30 June 2020. The transaction costs (TC) ratio is the percentage of the net asset value of the investment fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the investments underlying the investment fund. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the investment fund and affects investment fund returns. The TC should not be considered in isolation, as returns may be affected by many other factors over time, including market returns, the type of investment fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. The disclosed TC is shown as an annual percentage based on data for the period from 24 October 2018 to 30 June 2020. The total investment charges (TIC) is the sum of the TER and the TC, and is shown as a percentage depicting the annual costs relating to the investment of the investment fund. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

All investment fund returns are calculated for a class. Individual investor returns may differ as a result of fees, actual date(s) of investment, date(s) of reinvestment of income and withholding tax. All investment fund returns shown are after the deduction of the total investment charges (TIC) but exclude any initial or ongoing advisory fees that may, if applicable, be charged separately. Annualised returns, also known as compound annualised growth rates, are calculated from cumulative returns and provide an indication of the average annual return achieved from an investment that was held for the stated period. Actual annual figures are available from the management company on request. All investment fund return figures quoted (tables and charts where present) are at 31 May 2021, based on a lump sum investment, using net asset value (NAV) to NAV prices with income distributions reinvested on the ex-dividend date. Inflation figures, where present, are lagged by one month. Cash figures, where present, are Short-term Fixed Interest Composite Index returns. All figures quoted in are in Namibian dollar terms.

CISs are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests may go down as well as up and past returns are not necessarily a guide to the future. CISs are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and securities lending. The CIS may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the investment fund to bridge insufficient liquidity. Different classes of units apply to investment funds, which are subject to different fees and charges. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the management company. The management company reserves the right to close and reopen certain investment funds to new investors from time to time to manage them more efficiently in accordance with their mandate.
